We Hear You

Any gripes, kudos or ideas? Call 378-9136 to sound off.

I think the idea for the north loop is stupid. I think the only thing we'll be doing for Campbell is creating a blight like we have now in downtown San Jose and Santa Clara. Seems to me the renewal should have come first and the street bypassing second.

Opposed

I seriously question the thinking of the (Del Mar) administration who were going to allow Moonie speakers before parents called a halt to it. Does the separation of church and state apply just to catholics and protestants or is everyone included?

A Concerned Mother

I heard that two local schools won't be getting any funding for their neighborhood school parks while the others will. That doesn't sound fair to me. What gives?

Park Lover

Editor's note: The city Parks and Recreation Commission earlier recommended that additional funding for the program not be made for Coventry and Dover schools. In the first case, because that school is slated for closing and in the second, because the Commission felt the first part of the project didn't go well. Councilman Rusty Hammer (who, by the way, recently moved into the Dover area) was concerned when he heard this report and has been talking with Dover school and parent group leaders in an effort to see what type of future park development they favor. That issue isn't dead yet. But, keep in mind that the Council hasn't approved any additional funding for any of the other local parks either.

I just wanted to let you know that the person who keeps cat traps near my home is at it again. This morning my Mitzi was caught in the trap. I went over to the woman's house and tried to get my cat back but the animal control officer said she had to be taken to the shelter first; that's the rules. Later that day I picked her up and paid the $10 fee. The woman said my cat had been keeping her awake for several nights but that's not true. That night was the first time in months she'd been out.

I just think something should be done about this. It's one thing for cats to be bothering people, it's something else to bait these traps with fish and lure cats over there.

Editor's note: There has been some discussion of changing the "cat trap" rules so felines who have caused no damages cannot be caught and turned over to authorities. For those who feel strongly about such a change, a call to their county supervisor would be in order.

Local group funded

A piece of the money pie

A BRAND NEW Campbell organization will receive $60,704 in federal funding, the Santa Clara Valley Employment and Training Board decided last week. And it came as a big surprise to at least one officer of that group.

"We didn't think we'd get anything," commented Felix Ortiz, 1121 Hazelwood ave., vice president of West Valley Chicano Neighborhood Enterprises, Inc., based temporarily in a home at 254 Superior drive.

The group, which received its non-profit status last Nov. 10 had originally applied for $140,000 in funding for 13 staff positions. But, on the priority rating system adopted by the Board, the local group was given a "5" and weren't too optimistic about their chances.

LAST WEEK the Board allocated close to $9 million in Title VI funds to be used for public and non-profit agencies for public service project jobs. Campbell's only share of that funding pie was the six positions okayed for the local group. (The city of Campbell did not request any additional positions over the 11 they now have through CETA funding).

Ortiz says his group will be offering remedial-type job skills to unemployed and low income job seekers in the west valley area. This would include Campbell, West San Jose, Camden, Santa Clara and Cupertino areas.

WHILE THE GROUP name suggests such services would be concentrated on the Chicano population, Ortiz says this isn't the case. "We'll help everyone," he said.

The new organization, which should receive funding about June 1, after President Carter signs the appropriations bill, includes: Ortiz, Roberto Garcia, president; Rocky, Barrera, secretary; Manuel Borado, treasurer, and Luciano Aldana, board member.

Going it alone

New parking district plan

OWNERS OF The Factory and The Bodega may be teaming up to form a parking district of their own, Campbell city councilmen heard Monday night. That alternative to the downtown parking district was proposed by Bill McLaughlin, co-owner of The Factory.

For the past three weeks McLaughlin, Engineering Manager Bill Helms and Factory Manager Russ Farkouh have been trying to rekindle interest by other downtown property owners in the district. At last report, that appeared unlikely.

ALTERNATIVE PLANS, unveiled Monday night, would include a two-story parking area behind The Factory, lease of the Southern Pacific property off Railway ave., purchase of several small parcels north of the shopping center and use of the adjacent Campbell Water Company property for a driveway. McLaughlin also proposed Monday that two city-owned parcels be included in the district on a deferred payment basis and that the city underwrite maintenance costs for the first two or three years.

"We could form what could be the cornerstone of the parking district," McLaughlin told officials.

THE BUSINESSMAN said he had a meeting scheduled with property owners Tuesday in a last ditch effort to save the original district, which includes the entire downtown area. If that meeting fails, McLaughlin said, he's prepared to return to the City Council at the May 23 meeting with a new petition to form the smaller district.

Councilman Rusty Hammer, who termed the plan "an excellent idea," had one concern about McLaughlin's proposal. Hammer said he feels it's unfair that the two businesses finance the entire project. "Those other people on Campbell avenue will certainly benefit from the district," he added.

North loop gets underway

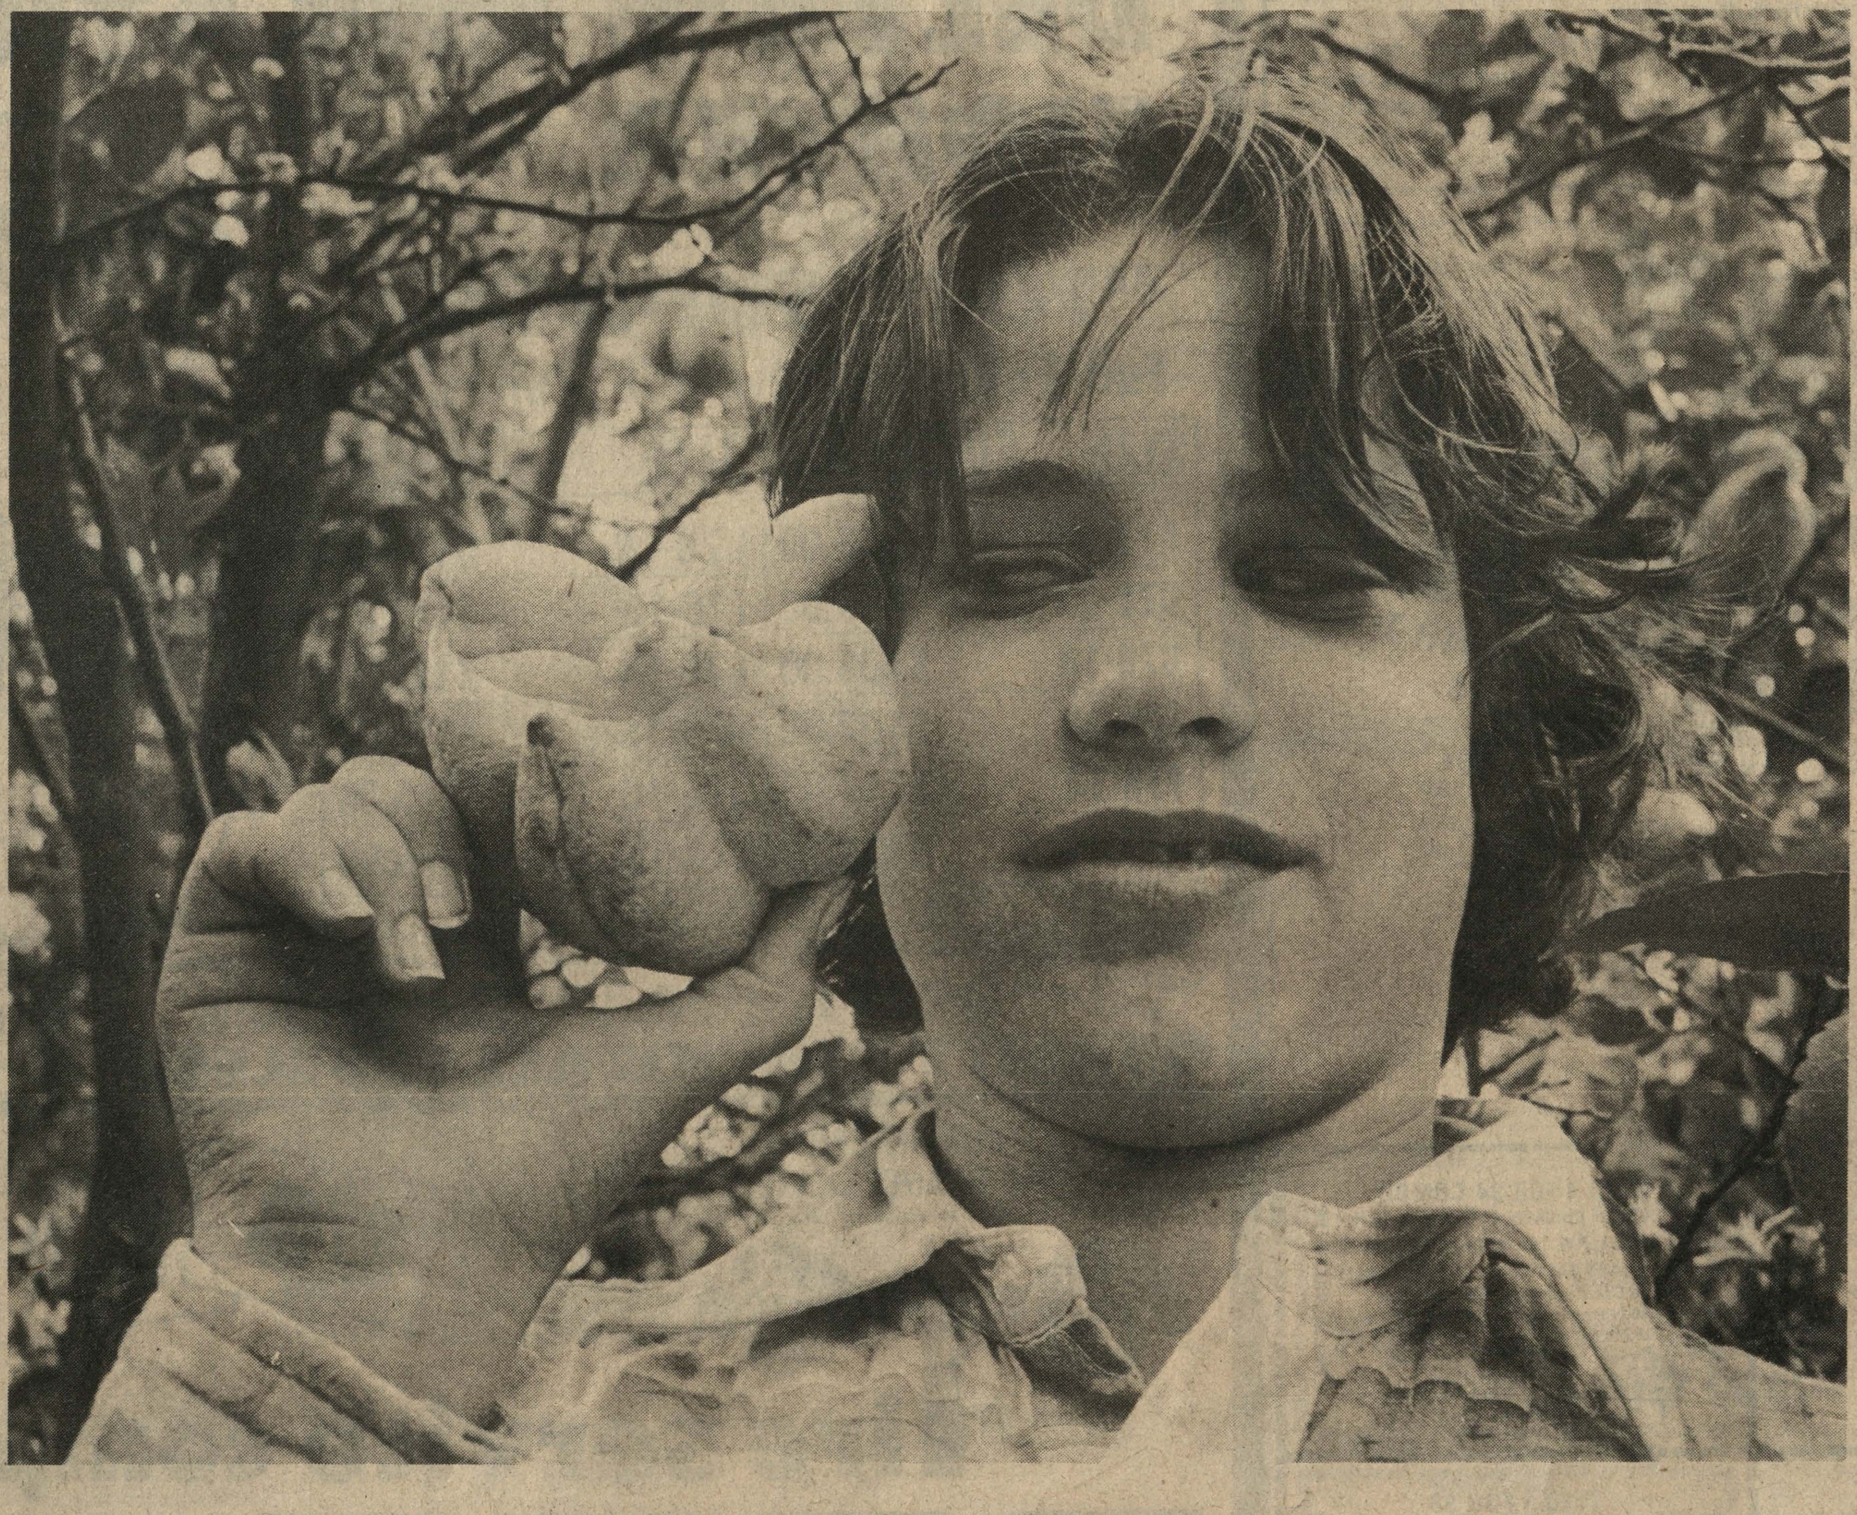
Construction of the north loop street (Civic Center drive) should be underway this month with a completion date in October.

Monday night city councilmen awarded the bid on construction work to R.J. Zipse Company, the firm that constructed the south loop street.

Zipse, the low bidder on the project, came in at $571,491, almost $52,000 over the engineer's estimate.

According to Engineering Manager Bill Holms, a preconstruction conference will be held this Thursday and construction work expected to begin within two weeks.

In other action Monday, the Council unanimously adopted the new street plan that will turn Central ave. into a cul de sac just south of the Grant st. intersection.



Guess what Jeff's holding

This year's wierdest plant award has to go to 11-year-old Jeff Steffenson, 1303 E. Campbell ave., who came across this lemon (that's right, lemon) which his neighbor was throwing out as a reject from his tree. But one man's reject is another's curiosity and Jeff took the funny fruit to show his fourth grade class at Dover School and plans to preserve the crazy citrus in a bottle. Jeff says the lemon reminds him of Fonzie's fist . . . hey . . . hey . . . hey!

City gets $93,750 in taxes

Campbell received $93,750 as the second advance payment of sales and use taxes for the first quarter of 1977.

Bulk of the funds come from the one per cent sales tax for cities and counties.

In addition Santa Clara County received $625,000 as part payment of the Local Transportation Fund sales tax authorized by voters.

Sign-up for flea market May 21

Sale tables are available for the second annual flea market at the San Tomas Neighborhood Park on Saturday, May 21, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Cost per space for adults is $2.50 and for children 15 years and under, 50 cents.

A total of 18 tables are available on a first come-first served basis or sellers can register that morning and bring their own table.

For information call the 4093 Valerie dr. Center at 379-9370 weekdays.

Church project biggest single building permit

There was a slowdown in building permits issued for April, a report by the Campbell Building Department shows, but the total for the year is still way ahead of last year at this time.

Permits issued totaled $850,183 for April, compared to $1,155,889 in 1976. Year to date totals, though, show the city at $7 million for the first four months of this year compared to $1.8 million last year.

Biggest single item for April was the 11 single family homes constructed at a value of $396,000. Next in line were the three industrial buildings valued at $150,620 and a commercial building valued at $47,190.

Under the "other" category a total of $202,000 was registered, most of that made up by the $179,701 construction project at the Seventh Day Adventist Church on W. Campbell ave.

Sign ups underway for summer school

Six Campbell elementary schools will be hosting summer school programs this year including Rolling Hills, Dover, Sherman Oaks, Monroe, Hazelwood and Marshall Lane.

Sessions run Monday through Friday, from 8:30 to 12:30 p.m. from Monday, June 27, through July 29.

There is no charge for the program and students currently enrolled in grades kindergarten through 7th grade are eligible to attend.

Transportation will not be provided.

For more information call Ruth Launer, director of instruction, at 378-3405, ext. 44.

Japanese students need host families

Thirty-five Japanese students will be arriving in the Campbell area in July and host families are being sought, according to Bob Rienhart, coordinator of the local Foreign Study League program.

Students attend classes in English and American culture at Westmont High School during the week and weekends are left free to spend with the host family.

Foreign students arriving July 27 were selected competitively, Rienhart said, and students and host families are matched for similar interest, hobbies and family composition.

Host families provide room and board and transportation to the high school during the student's 18-day stay. And the families also serve as an information service for American life, explaining what tacos or skateboards are, for example.

Anyone interested in learning more about the program can contact Rienhart during the day at Westmont High, 378-1500 or evenings at 266-7219.

PD zoning

Giant headache for homeowners

By PAT SAFFORD

NORMALLY, IF you're planning on adding a bedroom to your home, it involves a quick trip to the Campbell building department (if plans are complete) and a fee of about $50 for the permit and plan checking fee. Then its home to start with the hammer, saw and nails.

If you're a downtown homeowner though, the story's quite different. Under the blanket Planned Development (P.D.) zone on downtown property, that same proposal would have a three to six month delay and cost an additional $75.

Calvin Clemmons, a building contractor who lives at 78 S. Third st. found that out the hard way last week. He'd taken two weeks off work to do some refurbishing around his own home, including adding an extra bathroom, putting in a third bedroom and repaving the driveway.

SINCE HE'S obtained hundreds of building permits over the years in Campbell and other cities, Clemmons, with the architect's plans in hand, expected a quick 15 minute trip to City Hall. He'd also brought in building supplies for the project and had ripped the stucco off the back wall in anticipation of the routine approval.

Monday Clemmons was out back mopping up after the weekend rains and, the way things stand now, may have to wait until September or October to start his home improvement project.

The problem is with the PD zone originally imposed in 1975 to help with the orderly development of the city's core area. That zone though, also carries with it some unexpected restrictions that can cause the small homeowner a large headache.

While strictly interior work (with the exception of anything that would change the use), can be okayed by the Planning Director, any refurbishing that changes the exterior substantially or adds to the square footage of the building has to go through the Planned Development Permit route. This includes submitting detailed plans including a map (where applicable), a general land use plan, landscaping and fencing, elevations, parking and a development schedule.

WHILE SOME of these could be waived in the case of a simple room addition, the processing is the same. First to Planning, where a public hearing is set and noticed, then an appearance before the Site and Architectural Review Committee, a hearing before the Planning Commission and then on to the City Council for final approval. That's about three months minimum if everything runs like clockwork.

The property affected under this zoning includes businesses and homes bordered by Winchester boulevard on the west, the Southern Pacific railroad tracks on the east, and from Latimer avenue to Kennedy drive on the north and south.

For a businessman planning to locate downtown this long process is understandable. And for a developer who plans to construct a string of duplexes along a street with single family homes, it's logical. But for a homeowner who needs an extra room and can't afford to buy a new home at the inflated prices, it's a giant pain in the neck.

UNDER THE city PD ordinance, a provision is made for minor changes but there's a hitch. "Minor changes pertaining to the use, location and-or dimensions of a use may be approved by the director of planning," the ordinance reads . . . "providing a prior planned development permit insures general conformance of the structure or use of the development plan." And that's the hitch. The permit takes months to obtain and costs $75.

Another possible obstacle for homeowners is with the "purpose" section of the ordinance. "Such development plans must clearly demonstrate that the proposed development will result in a more desirable physical invironment and use of land than would be possible under any other permissible zoning classification." With the blanket zoning, also changing suggested density and use on the general plan, one might argue that a triplex (which would be allowed on Clemmons property) would be a better use than simply adding on one bedroom to a single family home.

AND THE PRESENT zoning log jam could put a serious crimp in the city's plans for housing rehabilitation.

While most projects would involve painting, repairs such as reroofing or rewiring, some homeowners may want to add a car port, bedroom or in some other way make a substantial improvement in their property. Presently, they'd have to go through the hearing route.

Planning Director Art Kee said a committee (made up of Chairman J. DuWayne Dickson and Commissioner Carl Samuelson of the Planning Commission) is now reviewing possible amendments to the PD ordinance. Their first attention is directed to a modification of the C-2 zone, Kee said, but they'll be looking into residential property next. Their recommendations are expected to be presented to the Commission in about two months, he added.

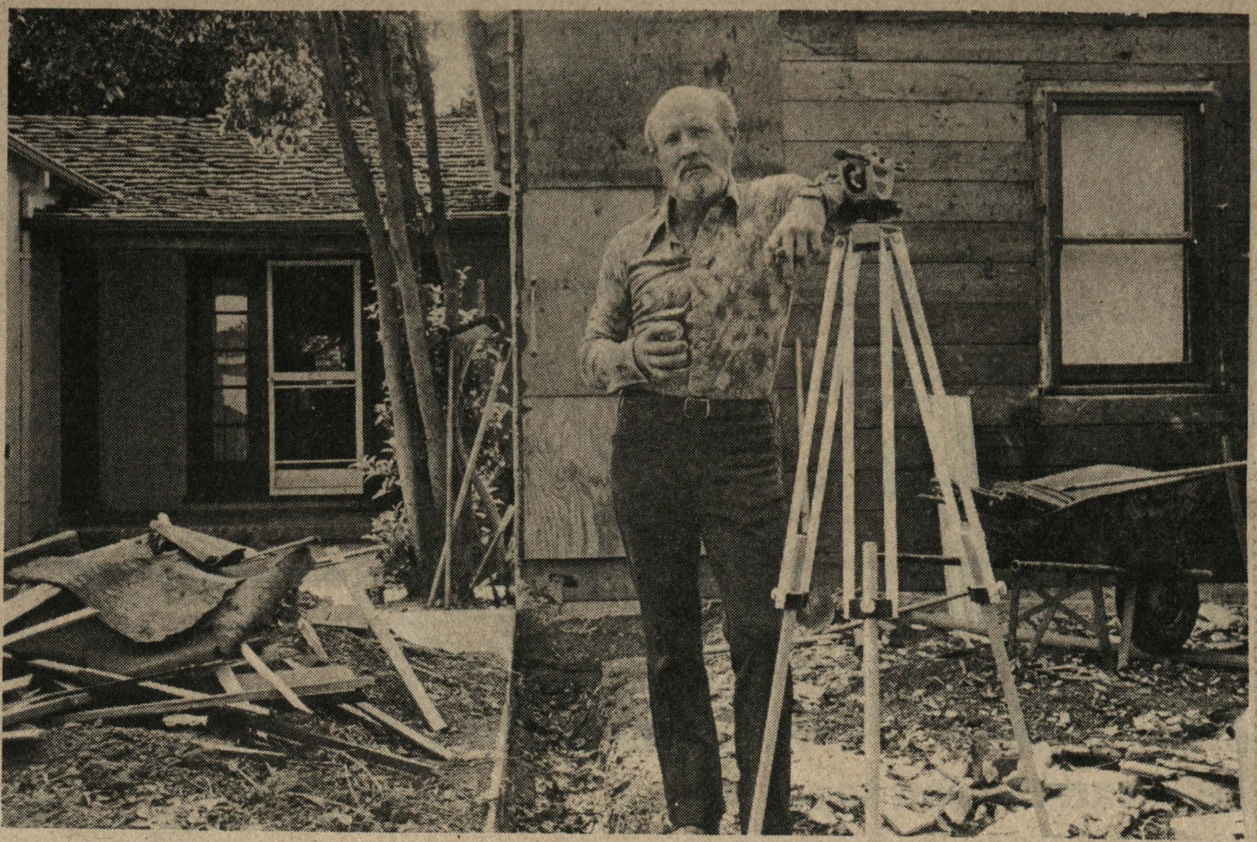
Kee acknowledged that the long wait seems excessive in the case of Clemmons but says, under the existing ordinance, his hands are tied. And Clemmons is the first home owner to run up against the red tape since the new zone was approved almost two years ago.

One businessman, Bill Hedley, earlier had to run the PD hurdles in order to make a change to the front of his downtown building. When the building, which formerly housed the Campbell library, at Central and Campbell ave. had a front face-lift, with new lettering for the sports equipment supply store, Hedley had to go all the way to the City Council for approval.

Clemmons feels its unfair for he and other homeowners to have that (minimum) 90 day delay. He also has another bone to pick with the City. "I never heard of this PD zone," he declared last week. "And I know none of my neighbors did either."

According to reports though, the hearing was held before the City Council in June of 1975.

"I did hear they were considering something like that," Clemmons conceded, "but I didn't know they decided on it and I sure didn't know it would mean you couldn't get a building permit."



WAITING FOR approval to add a room to his S. Third st. home is Calvin Clemmons. And, the way things are now, he'll have a long wait. Under a new zoning ordinance for downtown property his bedroom addition and extra bath will have to go all the way to the City Council for approval. Clemmons said when he learned the room addition would mean a big delay he withdrew that request and asked for a permit to convert an existing closet and bedroom space into an extra bathroom. That was also turned down, Clemmons says. The angry homeowner said Monday he plans to take his case to the City Council.

News briefs

JOBS NEEDED

The Campbell Youth Employment Service has launched their campaign to find summer jobs for local youths 16 to 20 years of age.

Anyone with a part or full time position, a temporary job or even an hour of gardening or baby sitting can call the YES office at 378-1666.

SECOND ANNUAL TOURNEY

Special guests at the second annual Softball Tournament and Barbeque of County Supervisor Rod Diridon will be members of the San Francisco Giants team and Carol Doda, local celebrity, it was announced last week.

The event, which will feature local politicos and business people taking to the ball diamond, is set for Saturday, May 14 from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at Central Park in Santa Clara.

Open to the public, tickets for the barbeque can be obtained by calling Lorraine Taylor at 244-4220.

Four teams will be pitted against each other that day and one, the "U.S. Taxpayers" is captained by George Kasolas, a Campbell attorney.

LUAU FOR SENIORS

Sunsweet Hall at The Factory will be transformed into a Hawaiian beach for the special luau for local senior citizens on Wednesday, June 29.

The $6 per person admission will include dinner, entertainment and dancing to a live band.

Sponsored by the Campbell Community Services office, the luau starts at 6 p.m. that night with no-host cocktails. Dinner hour is 7 to 8 p.m. with dancing and entertainment from 8 to 10:30.

Deadline for signing up is Tuesday, June 22. Call 378-8141, ext. 252 for more information.

BIBLE SERIES

Noted lecturer the Rev. Dr. Henry Shires will conduct a series of Bible-study lectures at the Congregational Church of Campbell on four Sundays, beginning May 15 at 11:10 a.m. following the morning worship services. The public is welcome to attend.

The speaker is the recently retired Professor of New Testament at the Episcopal Divinity School in Cambridge, Massachusetts.

This Sunday, May 15 at the 400 W. Campbell ave. church, there'll be some role reversals as the minister serves as a deacon and the deacons and musical director take to the pulpit.

This special lay service will include Dr. Weldon Parker, Eva Archibald and Colin J. Ford sharing preaching duties.

TECH ORIENTATION

A final oreintation meeting for those wishing to enter West Valley College's psychiatric technician program next fall will be held on Saturday, May 14 at the Mission College interim campus starting at 10 a.m.

This three-semester course trains students to work with mentally disabled and developmentally disabled persons at in-patient and out-patient facilities.

Graduates are eligible to take the Psychiatric Technician Licensing Examination.

For more information call 378-8560.

We're saving those drops

Voluntary rationing of water is a big success in the Campbell area, according to Homer Hyde, president of the Campbell Water Company.

Since the push for water conservation began in earnest in March, usage has gone way down, Hyde related. Comparing usage for April 1976 compared to 1977, the official said there has been between a 23 and 24 per cent reduction.

Along with the save water drive, water companies have been making plastic bottles, shower spray regulators and other saving devises available.

Hyde says so far about 35 per cent of his customers have stopped by the office to pick up their kit. "And we're still going," he added.

The turnout is much greater than experienced in past programs, Hyde commented. "Then, a 10 to 15 per cent response was considered good. But the average person is much more aware of the water problem."

Vote to rescind

Stadium issue is back before college trustees

THE STADIUM issue was again in the forefront last week as West Valley College trustees voted 3-2 in favor of rescinding their previous action, exempting themselves from the city of Saratoga's use permit. The motion failed to carry since Trustees Donald Lindstrom and Robert Sorensen were absent.

That vote though, which came in response to a letter by Saratoga City Manager Robert Beyer requesting they consider rescinding the exemption, opened up a whole new can of worms in the on-going controversy over completion of the stadium on the Saratoga campus. In the recent district election two incumbent trustees who voted for the exemption were swept from office.

The board later asked Superintendent James Hardy to determine the number of votes needed to rescind the earlier vote from the County Counsel's Office. It was unclear, trustees said, whether four affirmative votes were needed (a majority) or five, as originally needed to exempt the district from the use permit.

THIS ISSUE, plus two other stadium-related matters, will be considered by trustees at the May 19 meeting which will be held on the Mission Campus in Santa Clara.

The future of the proposed stadium and the use of the practice field at the Saratoga campus will also be discussed then.

After the vote last Thursday Trustee William "Ben" Gould suggested that the board meet in closed session with the Saratoga City Council to discuss the stadium question. Reason for the closed session, Gould explained, is because the matter is now in litigation. However, Nicholas Frank, president of the West Valley Taxpayers Environmental Association, told trustees his group also has a suit against the college district and that any such meeting should include representatives of that group. Hardy will also be checking with County Counsel on the closed-session issue.

ANOTHER BIG issue for college trustees last Thursday was the involuntary transfer policy for faculty needed for the new Mission campus. Thirteen speakers trooped to the mike that night to voice their opposition to the policy which is based on reverse senority (newest hired would be the first to be transferred when needed).

Main focus of the criticism by speakers was that the new policy, if implemented, would "strip" the women's studies department of its female faculty and that a male Chicano social science instructor should also be left at the Saratoga campus.

The board told members of the audience that a formal agenda item, listing those to be transferred, will be before the board at its May 19 meeting.

IN OTHER business the Board:

- Approved on a 4-1 vote, the application by the Women's Heart League of Santa Clara County to hold an outdoor operatic performance this fall on the stadium field. Trustee Carol LaMarre voted no, stating she believes the district is setting a precedent and would not be able to turn down requests for rock concerts.
- Held a first hearing on a possible change in agenda format and notification of community residents regarding how to request time on the Board's agenda.
- Held a first reading on a new policy prohibiting smoking at all regular and special meetings of the Board.
- Received a request from Robert Crawford-Drobot that the board's policy on the rotation of board officers be reviewed by the Board.

Let's cut the red tape

It's obvious that the three to six month delay in obtaining building permits in the downtown area for homeowners was an unintentional by-product of the desire by city officials to oversee development in this area.

That Planned Development (PD) zoning places an undue hardship, both financial and time-wise, on property owners who want to make significant improvements to their homes. And with the new housing rehabilitation program just getting underway, the PD provisions as now enforced could put a serious time crimp in parts of this vitally needed project.

We feel the months-long process of having a Planning Commission sub-committee study the issue, then bring the report back to the Commission and then to the City Council is more unnecessary red tape.

If there is a pressing need to modify this ordinance, and the facts seem to bear this out, then the remedy should be accomplished as swiftly as possible.

Surely, the City Council could request the Commission to study the issue and prepare a sample ordinance revision for discussion at their first June meeting.

At that, it would still take 30 days after passage of the amendment for it to become effective but would give homeowners a chance to make home improvements before this winter.

A step back in time at the faire

Visitors will be able to step back several centuries in time May 20 and 21 as West Valley College presents a Reniassance Faire featuring mime, juggling, a maypole, a dragon hunt and booths featuring everything from glop, a 16th century stew, to glass blowing demonstrations.

The Faire, which runs from 10 a.m. to dusk both days, will be held at the Saratoga campus. There is no admission charge.

Harlequin Street Theater will entertain both days with games, juggling, mime, storytelling, acrobatics and hawking. Also scheduled are poetry readings, fortune telling, play excerpts, madrigal singers and other musical performers.

Food booths will feature British bangers: cream pies, Simple Simon meat pies and glop. For natural food enthusiasts there's fruit, herbal tea and healthful milkshakes.

On Saturday, May 21, the Society for Creative Anachronisms has planned a wench dunking, games, a maypole, crowning of the queen, a "quest for the not so holy grail," a fencing demonstration, a maiden abduction and rescuing and a dragon hunt.

Craft booths, featuring handmade items will sprout on campus along with such specialties as a foot massage tent, heralding and animal and pony rides for the kids.

A curious scene along Dillon ave. Last Friday was this do-it-yourselfer who took advantage of a break in the storm clouds to dry his laundry. Ken Saunder, left sitting in the side entrance, has been bumming around the country for a couple of years now and uses the van as a home, auto, and as a clothesline.

I was interested in your story of the (drought resistant) plants being used along Los Gatos Creek. But I'd like to know what they are so I can plant them in my yard.

Green Thumber

Editor's note: According to Larry Hill of the Santa Clara Valley Water District, there are several hundred varieties of California natives planted. But here's a few: Trees, California Sycamore, California Live Oak. Shrubs: Sugarbush, bearberry and manzanita. Perennials: San Diego Daisy, Shasta daisy, bachelor buttons and California poppies.

By the way, a more complete list of plants and their care and feeding is now available at the Campbell public library, along with other water saving tips.

The pamphlets were sent over by the Water District last week.

Mailboxes are for letters or. . . how dumb can you be?

By PAT SAFFORD

Never put anything in the mailbox you don't want processed through the U.S. Postal Service. I learned that the hard way recently.

On Saturday morning, early, our dispatch person makes a run by my house to pick up stories and pictures for processing in our Cupertino office.

The two large envelopes marked "Camera-Cupt." and "Typesetting-Cupt." were there bright and early and, unfortunately the dispatcher forgot the stop on his way in to work. You can guess the rest.

I went through 36 hours of torture picturing the 20 stories gathering dust in the dead letter office that weekend. (The pictures were left behind.)

And, in my panic to retrieve them, did a lot of yelling and some illogical things. Like refusing to let the driver picking up mail at the Campbell Post Office out of the back lot until I was sure he didn't have my envelopes. Or trying to plead with postal employees through our open post office box.

The story ends well since the envelope was recovered before it left for who knows where . . . (maybe there's a Cupt. in Illinois) but I learned a valuable lesson.

NEVER leave anything in your mailbox you don't intend to mail.

Now I'm using the edge of the screen door to secure the envelopes each Saturday but there are some drawbacks to that system too.

Like . . . if there's a dog repellant that works on screen doors?

Squelching innovation?

EDITOR:

For the past year at the Santa Clara County Library, there has been discussion over the possibility of flexible scheduling at Library Headquarters (1095 N. Seventh, S.J.).

An informal understanding between library management and employees was reached several months ago but the County Employee Relations Division refused to recognize the right of the Library Department to negotiate such an agreement and delayed in proposing a resolution.

Library employees have now been told that due to a "new" countywide policy they will be denied the opportunity for flexible scheduling, including the option of the 10-hour, four-day work week endorsed by President Carter for government workers.

County management has chosen to turn down a plan which, at no cost to the taxpayer, would have provided better service to the public and a much needed improvement in employee morale.

The outcome of this particular issue will be decided by the County Board of Supervisors. We bring the matter to public attention because our situation typifies a tendency on the part of county administrators to lose sight of the goals and objectives of public service when dealing with county employees.

We find it discouraging indeed to see innovative ideas with no financial impact stifled in an over-zealous attempt to insure that the workers do not receive "disproportionate" benefit.

Editor's note — The letter is also signed by 26 other county library employees.

Stadium noise irks

EDITOR:

We as homeowners, and senior citizens would like to voice our protest in regard to the loud noises and auto pollution, that we are subjected to every time there is a soccer game, or a football game at Spartan Stadium, here in San Jose. For some reason, we as homeowners and taxpayers are being penalized and discriminated against, for the sake of a few wealthy backers such as Mr. Glen George of Joseph George Distributors and some executives from Crocker National Bank. Our so called rights, that the Constitution guarantees us, to live in peace and quiet in the comfort of our homes has been violated constantly, by this loud cannon being fired into the air every time there is a soccer game or a football game and one of these teams should score.

It has been as though we are living in a combat zone, because the noises are so bad that the very windows rattle and in some homes the ceilings are beginning to crack, but the most tragic thing about it is the elderly people, who are being frightened to the point that in some cases it is affecting their health; and in many homes even small and infant children are being raised in a warlike atmosphere every time one of these so called games are being played at Spartan Stadium, and could effect them emotionally, as they grow older.

When I called the city in regard to this nuisance and problem, I was told that there was nothing that I could do about it, as one of the promoter's had secured from the city a permit to create this disturbance around our homes from 8 p.m., when the games begin until they finish, sometimes after 10 p.m. But if you check with our sister city of Santa Clara, you will find that they put an immediate stop to the same problem that we are plagued with, once their citizens began to complain about the noise. You have to take in to consideration that the city of Santa Clara has a more dedicated type of city officials, who listen to their constituents.

City officials here in San Jose have always come from a group of opportunists, who are looking out for what they can gain for themselves personally or financially and have little or no consideration for the constituents who helped put them in the very office they now abuse.

Their position, (and it has appeared in our local paper) is if you don't like what the city does no matter how we vote, and I might add that this expansion of the Stadium was soundly defeated at the polls, is, you can move out of the city because we are going to do what we want whether you like it or not. We would like some kind of a government representative to be here in San Jose, at one of these games at the stadium, but come unannounced, so they can witness and hear for themselves, the abuse of the 1972 noise control act enacted by congress in regard to noise, and pollution we as citizens have to contend with.

I might further add, that the city has an ordinance in regard to noise of any kind of distrubances after 10 p.m. and it states that there is to be absolutely no noise from any type of loud speakers or any type of amplifiers from 10 o'clock in the evening and this goes until 10 o'clock in the morning. But during some of these games this loud noisy cannon is fired after 10 p.m., and the city does nothing to enforce this gross violation, but let some little working slob citizen cause a disturbance, and see how fast the city lets you know about the ordinance.

Copies of this letter will be distributed to all of the homeowners, so that names can be gathered as a petition, and sent to President Carter, so he can see what we as taxpayers and citizens are being subjected to and how our rights as American citizens are being violated, for the sake of a few wealthy people here in San Jose.

Andrew V. Figone
Representing Citizens and Homeowners who are against pollution and noise and the enlargement of the Spartan Stadium.

Priorities vs. stadium

EDITOR:

Our press, radio and television media have recently planted seeds in the public's mind that $750,000 should be the city of San Jose's share to enlarge Spartan Stadium, a state owned facility.

Shrewd promoters will undoubtedly lead the City Council and city manager astray so that the funding will be doled out for that purpose.

Some months ago the writer asked Supervisor Dom Cortese about what progress was being made to jointly purchase land for the Lake Cunningham Park Complex. At that time he stated that the county had two million dollars set aside for it but the city of San Jose was dragging its feet and could not come up with their share of the initial purchase price.

Now we learn that local politicians and selfish interest businessmen through cunning political means will have the city fork over $750,000.00 over a five year period to pay a share of the costs to enlarge the stadium.

There might be a need to have a larger stadium but the electorate should be afforded an opportunity to vote on it although it is state and not locally owned property.

Let us set our priorities first and proceed with the acquisition of land for the park complex.

Music and speech class sign-ups

Summer music and speech programs will again be offered in the Campbell Union School District.

The instrumental music program gets underway first, on Monday, June 20, at Castlemont School, 3040 E. Payne ave. For the past several years the music program, for 3rd through 7th graders, was held at Campbell Junior High School but had to be moved this year since a construction project will be underway this summer to prepare for the transfer of Blackford 7th and 8th graders this fall.

No transportation will be provided. Class hours are 9 a.m. to noon Monday through Friday through July 29.

The program is being dedicated to the late Ed Tonini this summer, who led the summer music sessions for many years.

Hazelwood School will again house the Summer Speech Program offering a five-week course of Speech and Developmental Language Skills for preschool and school-age children.

The 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. sessions will be held five days a week from Monday, June 27, through July 29.

Even fourth graders drink;

Alcoholism epidemic among teenagers

Far from being a cute imitation of sophisticated adults, the pre-teen sipping a homemade martini represents a serious problem for parents, teachers and law enforcement agencies. But the worst effects are upon the young drinker himself or herself. Writer David L. Miller of Stanford University has studied the problem of the young drinker, in both San Mateo and Santa Clara counties. In this two-part story, he presents the facts, the trends and some of the reasons behind the problem of the alcoholic youngster.

By DAVID L. MILLER

STANDING OUTSIDE Ernie's Liquors, Joey Shayne, a 16-year-old high school dropout, presses $2 into a dirty hand and asks a wino to buy him a bottle.

Charlie Kendel, 15, sits in the back seat of his school bus guzzling wine from a bottle hidden in a brown paper bag. He passes the bag to a friend.

Little Allie Blensky, 10, waters down her parents' liquor, gulps a glass containing wine, brandy and gin, and vomits.

Drunk and sick, 14-year-old Johnny Williams blacks out in French class.

First of two parts

Amidst growing social and parental permissiveness, alcoholism and alcohol-related arrests are spreading rapidly among our nation's youth. Even fourth graders have come to school drunk. Worse, alcohol, today's teenager's favorite drug, is often ingested simultaneously with marijuana, cocaine, PCP, LSD, tranquilizers and other chemicals.

Joey, Charlie, Allie and Johnny (not their real names) represent a national trend. A steady increase in alcohol use among high school students has been reported in a series of surveys conducted by the National Council on Alcoholism in San Mateo county, and throughout the country. In 1968, 46.3 per cent of the students polled used alcohol occasionally. By 1973 the percentage jumped to 86.3. In 1976, nearly 90 per cent of the students surveyed used alcohol.

EXPERTS CONSIDER these figures conservative because the surveys did not include dropouts, who tend to drink more than the school population.

"Alcohol use among teenagers is at an epidemic stage," says Denise Baccala, a professional nurse, ex-teenage alcoholic, and the National Council on Alcoholism's San Mateo county coordinator.

Although alcohol use is not necessarily the same as abuse, adolescent drinkers quickly become alcoholics, says Baccala.

A 15-year-old goes through all disease stages of alcoholism in 15 months, whereas it takes an adult five to 15 years, explains Baccala.

Teenagers are also more prone to violence, blackouts, and other adult alcoholic symptoms, especially when they combine alcohol with marijuana, PCP (an animal tranquilizer known to cause irreversible brain damage or death), and other chemicals, says Baccala.

"Ingesting alcohol with other drugs quadruples the affect," she says.

Baccala says teenagers typically drink irresponsibly, "gulp" alcohol, don't eat when they drink and consume only to get high.

Often, teenagers drink while driving in cars because they can't drink at home, she says.

One-third of the students interviewed in a 1974 National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) survey admitted driving at least once after drinking. Thirteen per cent said they had driven once or twice while drunk, and another 13 per cent reported three or four drunk-driving occasions.

survey released in October, 1976.

Conducted by the Social Advocates For Youth (SAFY), the survey questioned 300 Santa Clara county students in the fourth through eighth grades. Fifty-four per cent of the fourth graders had tried alcohol and 31 per cent consider themselves current users, drinking at least several times a year. By the sixth grade, 89 per cent had tried alcohol and 61 per cent consider themselves current users. By the eighth grade, 90 per cent had tried and 66 per cent label themselves current users.

Five per cent of the eighth-graders report drinking seven or more times per week and say their alcohol use causes personal problems.

TRAFFIC DEATHS and injuries of young people have skyrocketed since states began lowering the drinking age from 21. The combination of inexperience behind the wheel and inexperience in drinking appears deadly.

Grade schoolers are also drinking, according to a National Institute for Alcoholism and Alcohol Abuse (NIAAA)

"A more realistic grade school problem-drinker figure is 10 to 15 per cent because most alcoholics won't admit to difficulties," says Dr. Doris Schwarz, SAFY's Project Coordinator and a Stanford University instructor.

SCHWARZ SAYS the Santa Clara county results closely parallel national trends.

The male-to-female adolescent drinking ratio is about five-to-three, according to Baccala. She adds, however, that "Females tend to hide it more because it's less accepted."

The above surveys indicate alcohol, especially beer and wine, is youth's preferred drug. Cigarettes and marijuana ranked second and third respectively.

GALLON-INCH-POUND

CHAMPIONING the cause for National Metric Week (May 9-13) are, foreground from left, Mayor Bill Podgorsek and Police Chief Don Burr. Spark plug of the local drive to "Remember the Metrics" is Art Ring, far right, curriculum coordinator for the Campbell Union School District. Ring recently organized a "Metric March" for district staffers.

(Photography by Amy Huntoon)

Big changes

Tis the week to 'Think Metric'

"NO FOUR-LETTER words please!" read one sign being held aloft by marchers down Campbell avenue last week. But it wasn't an anti-obscenity lobby group.

The four-letter words they were referring to are inch, yard, mile and pint. And all will be passe by the end of this century.

This is National Metric Week and in the Campbell elementary school district Art Ring is spearheading the drive to acquaint the community with the wave of the future: metrics.

Like the new speed limit signs that will be sprouting up all across the country next year. In place of the 55 miles per hour signs, you'll be reading 90 Km (that's kilometers). And the old 25 MPH zone will be 40 Km.

MOST PEOPLE aren't aware of the change which will take effect in the spring of 1978 nationwide. Officially the changeover must be made during a 60 to 90 day period ending September 30, 1978.

Ring, district curriculum coordinator, came up with a novel idea for getting his message across during National Metric Week; a metric march along downtown Campbell streets. The signs let motorists and business people know of the changes coming and the one kilometer (pronounced kill-o-meter) walk is also good exercise for district staffers. For the uninitiated that's about six-tenths of a mile.

The March route Ring devised goes east on N. Third st. to Harrison, south to Campbell and then west on Campbell back to N. Third and the district office. And last week during the practice walk Ring and his fellow marchers got a mixed reaction. At a men's clothing store the owner gave an enthusiastic welcome as marchers trooped around his display counters.

"HEY! I JUST got my metric stick," Rex Jeffers told the group.

A man at an auto supply store had another view.

"You know the Japanese and Germans used the metric system," he told the surprised marchers, "and they lost the war."

The battle, if there is one, over conversions to the metric system authorized by Congress December 23, 1975, will be with the adults. Like having the doctor say you're not sick when the thermometer registers 37 celsius (that's 98.6 fahrenheit) or realizing you're in a school zone when the sign tells you to reduce your speed to 40 Km (that's 25 MPH).

Most cities, including Campbell, will be trying to make adjustment to the new speed signs as easy as possible. Like showing what the kilometer reading means in miles per hour. Or by leaving existing MPH signs up for awhile. And the later approach may not be too effective, according to Ring.

THE STATE OF Ohio put their metric road signs up in 1972 and included both the MPH and Km numbers.

"What they found (by having both) was that people don't pay attention and they don't learn anything," Ring related. The miles per hour becomes a crutch, he added.

Ring advocates making the transition complete as soon as possible. "When you live it you learn it very quickly," he said.

The United States is the last nation in the world to adopt the metric system. England, for instance, made the change in 1965.

And the biggest job in making the switch for this country is in educating the public; particularly adults.

RING IS DOING his part locally. Like the 25 meter race he's promoting for teachers as part of the district track meet May 17. "So far 17 have signed up," he commented.

One of the problems is that even teachers aren't really considering how long 25 meters is. One teacher told Ring he'd be happy to enter but that he wasn't in shape.

Senior complex

Nine story building may add a couple of floors

The high-rise apartment complex planned for 1655 S. Winchester boulevard may be rising a little higher.

Last week the Planning Commission continued the public hearing on the project so the Santa Clara Methodist Retirement Foundation, Inc. could come back with revised plans. Instead of the original nine stories, the corporation is expected to revamp that to an 11-story building.

Earlier that evening the Commission recommended that the Environmental Impact Report on the project be accepted and certified as complete.

The Foundation plans to construct the 168-unit complex, adjacent to the First United Methodist Church, for low-income senior citizens. Rent subsidies from the federal department of housing and urban development are expected to be available to tenants.

In other action last week the Commission:

o Recommended low-medium residential pre-zoning for property along Pollard rd. and West Parr ave. The parcels at 1570, 1580, 1590, 1600 Pollard and 1201, 1215 and 1225 West Parr are proposed for annexation to the city of Campbell.

o Granted a one-year extension to Joseph Carlino for the development schedule to construct an ice-roller center at 360-400 W. Rincon ave.

o Denied, without prejudice, plans by T. E. Burke, on behalf of Campbell Community Hospital, for a medical-dental building at 18 E. Hamilton ave. Revised plans, requested at a prior meeting, were not submitted to the Commission.

o Granted a one-year extension to use of a temporary structure for Westlands Bank at 1777 S. Bascom ave. The bank trailer is being used until a permanent structure can be constructed.

o Approved William Errico's plans for a 19-unit apartment complex at 420 Union ave.

o Approved Ira Kirkorian's plans to construct three drive-up kiosks for the Hibernia Bank at 1550 W. Campbell ave.

o Denied, without prejudice, the application by Tom Rivera for CET for a use permit to allow an educational instruction at 875 S. San Tomas Aquino rd. According to planning staffers, Rivera did not obtain a lease on the local property. Earlier, Rivera received local opposition from Councilman Rusty Hammer, who also serves on the county Manpower Board, because he felt the CET job training center would be diluting and-or duplicating services already being provided by the SER office in Campbell. CET offered on-site training programs while the local SER office operates as a referral service.

o Recommended denial of plans by Carl A. Maggio to add a duplex to an existing two-unit development at 129 E. Rincon ave. The planning staff and architectural advisor felt it was a poor design which did not allow adequate parking facilities.

o Approved plans by Mark S. Madden, D.V.M., to convert a residence at 3175 S. Bascom ave. into a veterinary hospital, subject to agreed upon modifications.

o Approved plans by Russell J. Valenti for construction of an office-warehouse at 607 McGlincey lane in a light industrial zone.

Daydreams in need of overhauling

FOR MAY 14-MAY 20

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Give your all to the present, Ari, and week ahead will be like a lovely flower, yours for the plucking. You are a natural joy-spreader, Ari, and this week you get chance to cover your private little world "like the dew covers Dixie." Do it.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): You can be a bridge this week, Taurus, and unite two who are separated. Your restless heart finds peace and your secret garden blooms.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Energy dips, but it is only temporary. By mid-week you emerge from the valley of fatigue and sally forth into the May sunshine. One at a distance longs to hear from you. If you can't write, then telephone. Or send a wire. Or send smoke signals. Anything. Just communicate!

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Daydreams you've been indulging in need to be overhauled. Either that or you should dredge up some new ones. After all, fantasies are subject to the law of diminishing returns. On last day, Moonbaby, go play in a dandelion bed.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Privilege you have been pressing for apt to be granted to some degree. What Leo wants, Leo usually gets. However, pertinent questions will be asked. Have answers in your hip pocket. Week ends on speculative note.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Stop chasing, Virgo. In the chasing you are running away from that which is of the utmost importance. Inner peace. Message clears. Week ends on key of G, for graduate, grateful and goody.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Faded memories may return to give you the broody blues. Yesterday is over, Over, OVER. Today can be as sweet as honeysuckle if you'll just stop stewing over the past. New door waits to be opened. But Libra, you must turn the knob.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): A moment is paradise scheduled, Scorp. Treasure it. Hold it fast. Then put it in your memory bank for rainy day. Week ends on personal note.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You know how you love your independence, Saj, well, loved one is no different in this department. Don't expect lover to follow you on a leash. Too much togetherness can suffocate the best relationship. Crazy week ends with a snap.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Week packed with emotion. Hold your head high and one who attempts to bully will withdraw. And gladly. Foxy newcomer appears on scene. Use a modicum of caution in dealings, Cap. Week cuddles to a close.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Seeds of foolishness planted in the past now sprout a bramblebush of problems. One who waits quietly in the shadows can help, but you must ask for it. Help will not be foisted upon you.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Romance sashays into your life. Attraction will be strong, but time is not favorable, Pisces. Sorry. Decline with a smile. (And a hint of promise.) Week ends with a sigh.

Home and school club

Raising dollars, dimes and pennies for a neighborhood park at Cambrian elementary

ALMOST EVERY week there's a new fund-raising project in process at Cambrian School this year, but its all for a good cause. The Home and School club launched an ambitious project this year to raise money to have play equipment installed on the now-barren field behind the 721 Curtner ave. school.

And not just any old play structure either. What they have in mind, and have on order, is a "Playscape" complete with a suspension bridge, giant obstacle course and tire with netting for a climbing structure.

So far the group has raised about $2,800 for the $3,500 they need to fund the project but that's not counting the cookbook sales, now underway, or the Pizza Night planned for Thursday, May 12 at Shakey's Pizza, 1850 Camden ave.

AND ALONG with this project, the school will be getting its long awaited park area, funded by the San Jose Parks and Recreation Department, with a portion coming from the school district.

Preliminary work on the $21,000 project is due to begin this week, according to Albert Vatuone, assistant superintendent-business for the Cambrian district. $4,000 of that total is being funded by the district from the sale of unused school sites.

THE NEIGHBORHOOD park will include a large lawn area, a smaller area for picnicking with tables and barbeque pits, shade trees and an amphitheatre area with a small wooden platform for performances.

According to Vatuone, the five acre development (including the club's play equipment) should be completed and ready for picnickers by September.

So when school's out this summer workmen will begin installing the lawn and work on the Home and School Club project will get underway in July.

So far there's been a Pumpkin Walk, sale of identification bracelets, a luncheon at the Mercury Savings building, an Ice Cream Social held in conjunction with the school's open house and now the cookbooks and pizza night.

ANYONE WITH a yen for Elephant Casserole or more traditional fare like Beef Stroganoff can find some helpful recipes in the "Cambrian Cooks" book on sale at the school.

And if you're partial to pizza the school would appreciate you satisfying your appetite between 5 and 10 p.m. this Thursday at the 1850 Camden ave. restaurant.

CAMBRIAN COOKS

TAKING A LOOK at the model for new play equipment at Cambrian elementary school are, from left, Christy Maisano, 8, Joanne Rennert, president of the Home and School Club, and Richard Nelson, 8. Co-chairmen of the project, which will be constructed this July, are Kristin Boyce and Barbara Eddy. The first phase will cost about $3,500 with phase two and three reserved for future home and school club boards. Final cost is estimated at between $7,000 and $8,000 but the school parents' group already has a leg up on phase two — the executive board officers will be the same for 1977-78.

A SUMMER wedding is planned by Cheryl Stephenson and Lonnie Stroud.

CUSD

Summer fun is planned at nine local schools

Sports, field trips, movies, games and arts and crafts will be offered to Campbell area youngsters again this summer through the recreation program sponsored by the Campbell elementary school district.

Nine schools will offer the month-long program this year which runs weekdays from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., June 29 through July 29. All playgrounds will be supervised by at least two or three qualified recreation leaders.

Programs will be offered this year at Forest Hill, San Tomas, Rosemary, Capri, Blackford, Cypress, Lynhaven, Moorpark and Quito.

For more information call Mel Miller at 378-3405.

ART WINNERS

Campbell High's Ann Ramey took first place, and $25, in the recent Art Talent Contest sponsored by San Jose Parlor 81, Native Daughters of the Golden West.

Other top winners included: Carol Smith, Leigh, second place; Mark Scheinstrane, Lynbrook, third; and Bill Friend, Overfelt, fourth place and honorable mention.

PHARMACY GRADUATE

Barbara L. Groten of Campbell was one of 144 students at the University of the Pacific who recently received their doctor of pharmacy degrees. Commencement was held Sunday, May 1.

LOCALS PERFORM

Four local musicians are among California Youth Symphony members celebrating their 25th anniversary Spring Concert May 22 at San Mateo high school and May 29 at the Flint Center at De Anza College.

Barbara Holliman and Kristin Schemerhorn play the cello with Sandy Holliman on the viola and Nina Ruttan on the violin.

HILL ENLISTS

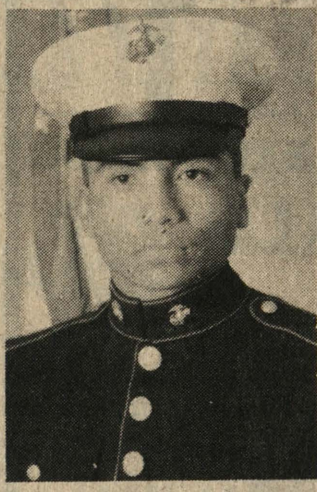
Kurt E. Hill, who attended Camden high school, has been selected for U.S. Air Force training, it was announced last week.

He'll attend the six-week basic military training school in San Antonio, Texas.

WOOD GRADUATES

Ronald Anthony Wood of Campbell recently received his bachelor's degree from Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah.

The localite was among 2,361 students honored at the April 22 commencement exercises.



Marine Private Raul Perez.

HONOR STUDENTS

Carey Greenwood and David Patapoff of Campbell were among those named to the Honor Roll at San Jose Christian Schools for the third quarter.

Greenwood is in seventh grade while Patapoff is an eighth grader.

Both maintained "B" averages or better.

PEREZ COMPLETES TRAINING

Marine Private Raul Perez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rogelio Perez of 845 Jones way, recently completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego.

The 1973 graduate of Westmont high school, joined the corp in December of 1976.

Campbell

They're really cleaning up at local jr. high

In addition to books and papers Campbell Junior High School students can also be seen carrying around paint brushes these days.

The Clean Campus Campaign, pitting five county junior highs against each other, has been underway for two weeks now and will finish May 20 when the top school wins a trophy.

Once a week a Santa Clara Fire Marshall visits each of the schools and checks four areas; athletic fields and planted areas, locker areas, yards and outside lunch areas and restrooms. One Hundred total points are possible for each inspection and Campbell is determined to rack up the highest score.

In addition to picking up campus litter the students have been involved in a beautification program including painting benches, garbage cans and, last week, their lockers.

And that clean look must be maintained at all times since inspection visits are unannounced and occur at any time during the week. The marshall looks for litter, writing on walls and the general appearance of each campus.

Other schools competing are Fisher, Houge, Dartmough and Ida Price junior high schools.

Local featured in ice review

Susie Preston of Campbell will be a featured soloist in the 1977 ice skating revue presented by the Silver Edge Figure Skating Club on Saturday and Sunday, May 14 and 15, at the Ice Palace in Sunnyvale.

The local girl will do a dynamic rock jazz skating number in the show titled "Rhythms Near and Far."

A cast of over 100, including other locals, will perform along with four guest stars from the 1977 National Figure Skating Championships.

Club member Brian Boitano, a national medalist, will be a solo performer featuring triple rotation jumps.

Both matinee and evening performances are scheduled. Admission is $3 for adults and $2 for children under 12.

Tickets will be available at the door that night.

Cheryl and Lonnie will be married

Former Campbellites Mr. and Mrs. Nelson C. Stephenson have announced the engagement of their daughter, Cheryl Ann, to Lonnie Joe Stroud. The announcement was made at a party for family and close friends at the Stephenson's Vacaville home.

Cheryl, a Campbell high school student, graduated from Solano Community College in 1975 and will graduate from U.C. at Davis this June. She was past Honored Queen of Bethel 174, Job's Daughters of Campbell.

The bride-elect is currently employed at The Nut Tree in Vacaville.

Lonnie, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Lashbrook of Vallejo, is a graduate of Hogan High School, Solano Community College and San Francisco state university.

He is employed in the Planning Department for the county of Solano.

The couple plans a summer wedding.

Montesano was roasted

EL PARADISO PTA Council picked a novel way to announce the recipient of their honorary PTSA Life Membership Award: Nicholas Montesano, superintendent of the Campbell Union High School District (second from left). Members and guests at the luncheon were treated to a "Royal Roast" of Montesano by friends and co-workers who gave a humorous account of his 17 years with the district, from director of guidance and counseling to superintendent. Shown at the banquet, from left, are Jill Oliver, program chairman; Montesano; Edith Brooks, secretary to Montesano; Hal Sontag, Del Mar principal; Kathy Bull, Camden vice principal; Bud Baldwin, Campbell principal; and Jim Gillespie, assistant-superintendent.

FORMER WARRIOR — Former Westmont pitching star Janet Heldt is now a starter for the West Valley College women's softball team. Heldt lost a heartbreaking 1-0 decision in nine innings last weekend at the regional tournament despite tossing a three hitter.

Brandt sets state record at finals

SWIMMING

"Wide World of Sports," eat your heart out!

While the "Wide World" crew was out last weekend filming something of such nationwide significance as a destruction derby or a giant slalom, an event of genuine national magnitude was going on right here in the Santa Clara Valley, and they didn't even know about it!

The California Community College swimming and diving championships were held last week at the West Valley College pool in Saratoga and eight National Junior College records were broken in the three day affair.

Four of the eight records were snapped by West Valley College swimmers to help the Vikings to an impressive second place finish in the team standings at the state meet.

Lance Michaelis (Santa Clara) set new National standards in the 100 and 200 breaststroke events and Dave Hendrickson (Santa Clara) set a new National mark in the 200 individual medley.

The 800 free relay team of Hendrickson, Bob Mangan (Santa Clara), Mike Yates (Santa Clara) and Bill Yates (Santa Clara) also set a National record and Herb Brandt (Del Mar) set a new state mark in the three meter diving event.

Mangan also won the 500 free at the state meet, was second in the 1,650 free and finished third in the 200 free. Hendrickson added a second in the 200 breast and a sixth in the 400 IM and Brandt came up with a second in the one meter diving with Steve Peckham (Campbell) third.

M. Yates was fourth in the 200 free and Mike Wagnon was fifth in the 100 back for West Valley.

TRACK

Steve Oravetz (Campbell) will lead a crew of 10 Vikings this Friday in the Northern California trials at San Joaquin Delta College.

Oravetz, who just last weekend tied for third in the JC division at the West Coast Relays, will compete in the pole vault along with teammates Rick Vasquez (Camden) and Jerry Mulligan.

Kevin Harding (Camden) will take part in the high jump, Wayne Gray (Campbell) will compete in the long jump, Bob Paulin (Camden) will run the 10,000 meters, Ray Aver (Branham) will go the 5,000 meters and Gray, Jim Kirkish (Campbell), Rick Miller (Leigh) and Kevin Soulsby (Camden) will battle in the mile relay.

WOMEN'S SOFTBALL

Janet Heldt (Westmont) pitched well enough to win for West Valley at the regional tournament last weekend, but the Viking fireballer lost a 1-0 heartbreaker in nine innings to Cerritos.

Heldt had whirled a one-hit shut-out through eight innings before giving up a double and a single in the ninth. West Valley couldn't retaliate with a run in its half of the inning and fell 1-0 in the extra inning game.

Sue Kensill (Camden) had thrown a three-hitter for an 8-0 Viking win against Orange Coast in WVC's opener but lost a 4-0 decision to Los Angeles Valley in her second outing.

The Vikes will not return to conference play against Hartnell and Gavilan. The Vikes are tied with De Anza for first place, both clubs at 12-2.

Softball benefit

THE SAN JOSE Sunbirds will take on an undefeated team comprised of members from the Big Sister, Big Brother and Buddy Project organizations in a benefit softball game on Sunday, May 15, at San Jose Municipal Stadium beginning at 2 p.m.

All proceeds from the game will be divided by the three agencies, which serve the Santa Clara County by providing guidance and companionship to a fatherless or motherless child.

Tickets are on sale at Top Hat Tickets, 140 W. San Carlos. Tickets are $2 each.

The Sunbirds will give out a pair of free tickets to all paying fans for use at any Sunbird home game this season.

Braves, Dons share second

Buccaneers hold fate in own hands

By DAVE MENDONCA

THE CAMPBELL Buccaneers, thanks to the Blackford Braves, now hold their fate in their own hands in the West Valley Athletic League's exciting baseball race.

The Bucs hold a one game lead over both Blackford and Del Mar heading into this week's final regular season action. If Campbell can come away with victories over Camden and Prospect, a pair of lower division clubs, the WVAL bat crown will belong to the Bucs outright.

However, a loss in either game will probably force the Buccaneers to share the loop title with Blackford, Del Mar or both.

"We can't look past anybody," said Campbell head coach Gordon Huntze prior to his club's Tuesday confrontation with Camden (3-11) and Thursday's finale against Branham (3-12). "With their (Branham's and Camden's) records, they'll be looking to knock someone off."

Chances are, however, that neither Branham nor Camden will be able to stop Campbell's surge to the league championship. The Bucs are easily playing their best ball of the season following last week's 9-2 stomping of the always tough Leigh Longhorns.

THE VICTORY was Campbell's ninth in a row and raised their record to a sparkling 12-2.

Hard-throwing Wes Mitchell posted the win in relief of a struggling Mark Sullivan, hurling the final four and a third innings. Mitchell blanked the Longhorns on just three hits, walked no one and fanned four during his stint on the mound after Leigh had tallied twice off Sullivan in the third.

The game, for all intents and purposes, was decided in the first inning when the rampaging Bucs erupted for five runs off Leigh starter Rick Corbett.

Steve Tindall started the Buc uprising with a one out single. Mitchell singled Tindall to third and then stole second. An intentional walk to Mark Raust loaded the bases.

The Longhorn strategy backfired when Sullivan drew an unintentional walk, forcing home Tindall.

With two out, Frank Giammona blasted a three run triple and later romped home on a wild pitch to cap the rally.

The Bucs picked up two more runs in the third with the aid of three more walks. Sullivan and Giammona both drew bases on balls and Brian Raust singled to load the bases again. A walk to Cliff Judd and a single by Tindall both drove in runs.

Campbell concluded its scoring in the sixth. M. Raust, who belted a solo home run in the fourth, forced out Mitchell after the latter had gotten on base via an error.

A PASSED BALL moved Mitchell to second and Dave Martin drove him home with a single to center.

Del Mar's bid to capture its first-ever WVAL bat championship may have come to an end last Tuesday when they were wallopped 14-4 by the Blackford Braves.

"It was just one of those games," said Don head coach Gary Cunningham. "We still have a chance of catching Campbell. We're counting on someone to knock off Campbell."

"Even if that doesn't happen, this is still the best season we've ever had at Del Mar and nothing is going to spoil it," he added.

The Braves not only avenged an earlier 13-5 loss at the hand of Del Mar but moved right back into the title race with their win.

Jerry Cutierrez went the distance for the big Brave victory, scattering eight hits and two walks while striking out eight.

Jeff Blobaum, meanwhile, absorbed his first loss in seven WVAL decisions for the Dons. Blobaum was shelled for 10 runs (seven earned) and 11 hits during just two and two-thirds innings on the mound. Tom Bell and Tom Harris hurled the rest of the game for the losers.

Blackford snapped a 2-2 tie and broke the game open for good in the third inning with an eight run explosion.

With one out, Mike Turnwall and Mark Savone lashed back-to-back singles to left. But David Nobles bounced into a force out, leaving runners at the corners with two out and no one in.

DAVE EASTMAN, who was two for three on the day, kept things alive with a bloop single to right, scoring Turnwall.

A single by Gutierrez, who was three for four, plated Nobles. Eastman and Gutierrez moved up to second and third on the throw to the plate.

Sophomore Dave Payne, who collected three hits and drove in four runs in the romp, followed with two runs single to left. Kevin Troupe belted a triple to drive in Payne and then tallied himself on a single to left by Brian Kanzaki.

Matt Gruwell, who was three for five, lashed a base hit and came in moments later, along with Kanzaki, on a two run single by turnwall.

The Dons bounced back two days later to remain mathematically alive in the WVAL pennant chase by beating Prospect 9-6 despite being outhit 13-7.

Harris, raising his record to 5-2 for the season, notched the win with late inning relief help from Blobaum, who notched his fourth save of the year.

Blobaum entered the game in the fifth inning with three runs already in and runners at second and third and only one out. The Don reliever promptly picked off the runner on third and retired the next batter to end the Panther rally.

Blobaum then blanked the Panthers over the final two innings, striking out two.

It was Del Mar's turn for the big inning on Thursday, snapping a 3-3 tie in the fourth with a six run outburst.

MIKE RUSCONI opened the fourth with a walk and proceeded to steal second. After Mark Intrieri drew a walk, Dan McKay sacrificed both runners up a base.

Bobby Cirivilleri, pinch-hitting for Karl Martin, lashed a two run single to left. Martin returned to the game, via the reentry rule, to pinch-run for Cirivilleri and promptly stole second. A passed ball moved him to third.

Catcher Jim Dorr then laid down a safety squeeze bunt and was safe on an error by the Prospect first sacker, allowing Martin to score.

Consecutive walks to Eric Richesin and Doc Medica loaded the bases. Hogi Taylor was then hit by a pitch, forcing in Dorr.

Prospect's catcher attempted to pick off Medica at second moments later but his throw sailed into center, allowing both Richesin and Medica to score, completing the rally.

Taylor, who was two for three on the day with three runs-batted-in, erased his own school record for most RBI's in a season by raising his 1977 total to 25, two more than his 1976 output.

Others collecting hits in the win for Del Mar were Intrieri, who doubled in the second, Medica and Fred Gradel. McKay lofted a sacrifice fly in the second inning.

Leftfielder Martin came up with the defensive play of the game with a diving catch in left-center in the first inning with the bases loaded and two outs.

The Dons close out their season Thursday at home against Los Gatos following a bye on Tuesday.

Rangers take command of Quito Little League race

By DAVE MARCUS

An awesome first place clash took place as the Quito Little League continued its play.

The all-important game took place between two undefeated titans, the Ranger and the Phillies. At the start of the game the Rangers led the Phils by a half game, but when the smoke had cleared the Rangers were ahead by one and a half games, by virtue of a tight 3-2 victory.

The Phillies led to their own downfall as they surrendered two first inning unearned runs, which was just about all the Rangers needed.

After the heartbreaking defeat, the Phillies proceeded to drop another game, this one to the Tigers 11-2.

A look at the standings now shows the dominating Rangers ahead with a perfect 6-0 mark, followed by the Twins 4-2, the Phillies and Tigers 3-2, the Dodgers 2-3, the Braves 1-2 and the Cardinals and Giants with 1-4 marks.

Moreland

A heartbreaking loss for pitcher Brad Ceynowa topped the events of the Moreland Little League major division.

Ceynowa, a hurler for the Angels, tossed a gallant no-hitter against the Yankees, but due to faulty fielding and trouble finding the plate, Ceynowa and the Angels fell to a bitter 3-2 defeat.

Another exciting game took place when the Angels clashed with the Dodgers. After the game entered its second extra inning, Bill Seis ended the marathon with a dramatic inside-the-park-home run, giving the Dodgers a 6-4 triumph.

The Cubs are presently leading the major division with a 5-1 mark, followed closely by the 5-2 Dodgers.

In the Moreland minors, the Beavers have squeezed out a one game lead over the Pilots. The Royals, Oaks, Expos and Jets all follow.

West Valley

The action continued in the West Valley Little League as the Cardinals kept up their domination.

The Cards ousted the Braves 12-9 in an exciting come-from-behind victory.

The Cards didn't stop there, however, as they continued their undefeated play with a 6-1 win over the Mets.

Larry Barrett, Mark Crane and Tom King are three of the main reasons for the Cards' fantastic 9-0 mark in the league's first half of play.

The Astros lead the senior national minors with an impressive 4-0 record.

Lindsey outduels Comee in Giant win over Cards

CLIFF WHITE crossed home plate in the eighth inning, breaking up a pitcher's duel between the Giants' Keith Lindsey and the Cardinals' Ken Comee and lifting the Giants to a thrilling 2-1 victory last week in Campbell-Moreland Pony League action.

Lindsey, in addition to chalking up the win, fanned 16 batters while Comee, who absorbed the loss, struck out 12.

The Giants beat the second place Yankees 7-6. The Giants scored three runs in the fifth inning to take the lead 7-5. The Yankees tried to rally back in the seventh inning, but they failed to score a run. Lindsey led the Giants' offense, going three for four.

Wednesday, the Tigers bombed the Dodgers 10-5. Billy Roberts got the win for the Tigers. Mitch Morris of the Tigers went three for three, and hit the first home run of the season. Scott Freear was two for three and Curt Cabaniss was two for two.

The Tigers lead the pack with a 5-1 record, the Cubs are at 4-1, the Yankees are 3-1, the Mets and Giants are tied at 3-2, the A's are 2-2, the Dodgers are 1-4, the Cardinals are 1-5 and the Pirates are 0-4.

Youth soccer sign-ups

SIGN-UPS will be held on May 10, 11 and 12 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at nine area schools for the West Santa Clara Valley Youth Soccer League.

Boys and girls aged 19 and under are eligible for the league and should sign-up at any one of the following schools: Country Lane, De Vargas, Campbell junior high, Strawberry Park, Phelan, Bucknall, Anderson, Rosemary or Quito.

The registration fee is $20 per player or $15 each for two or more players from the same family. Players who did not compete in California Youth Soccer Association play last year should provide a birth certificate and all players must be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

Silvas tosses D's to 3-1 win

By JOHN VAUGHN

EXCELLENT pitching by Thomas Silvas kept D's Automotive in first place in the Campbell Little League standings.

Silvas pitched a one hitter and accumulated 15 strikeouts to beat Breuner's 3-1. Robert Artery and Silvas knocked in the only runs for D's. Darryl Jones of Breuners pitched a six hitter and also had 15 strikeouts.

Moose stomped Robins 9-2. George Tsamis got the win, pitching a three hitter. Two of the game's top hitters were Jerry Pennington and Chris Gettler, both with one single and one RBI.

Willow Glen Optimists' Mike Catalana pitched a one hit shutout to beat Campbell Plaza 2-0. Bill Murtha bunted for the only hit for Willow Glen.

Plaza's Richard Venegas pitched a one-hitter, but he walked in Willow Glen's two runs. Cameron Comick had the only hit for Plaza.

D's Automotive is in first place with 6-3 record, Moose is 5-4, Willow Glen Optimist and Breuners are tied at 5-3-1, Fontanetti's is 5-2-1, Robins is 3-5, Doetsch is 2-4-1 and Campbell Plaza maintains a 1-8 record.

Moreland Giants in glove gem

Triple play highlights local Bobby Sox action

By JEFF WAGNER

A triple play was just one of the fine defensive plays presented by the Moreland, Campbell and West Valley Bobby Sox softball leagues.

MORELAND

A fifth inning triple play by the Giants ended a threat by the Angels to give them a 9-4 win in a game played in the major division.

With runners on second and third, a pop fly was hit to the third baseman. She doubled up the runner on second and the second sacker threw out the runner at home trying to score. A triple by Kim Williams helped out in the win.

In other major games, two hit pitching by Mary Ann Malsen, with help from two triples by Mandy Santos, led the Braves to a 5-1 victory over the White Sox.

Five doubles, two each by Leslie Cunningham and Juli Goddard, paced the Red Sox to a 14-6 win over the Giants.

In a tight 5-4 victory for the Yankess, five pitchers were used, including three for the Braves, who took the defeat.

The first place Dodgers routed the second place Royals in minor division play 16-5. Fine catching by Collen Reilly, who had three put outs, and three RBI's by Christina Walker and Jode Costanza paced the victory.

The Tigers edged the Pirates 14-12 and the Mets topped the Athletics 10-9 in other minor games.

The Dodgers clouted the Mets 19-5, the Pirates outscored the Dodgers 21-14, the Royals clipped the Athletics 12-11 and the Tigers beat the Mets 10-6 in games played later.

CAMPBELL

There were some close games, and some not so close in the major division. A tight one featured the Phillies in a 6-5 win over the Reds. Homers by Robin Poque and Robin Puschell were the killing blows.

A fine pitching combination of Barbara Franza and Shelley Maire shut-out the winless Cubs 14-0.

In other major games, the Pirates beat the Reds 17-8, the Mets took the Expos 9-4, the Pirates edged the Cubs 12-11 and the Expos knocked off the Dodgers 12-10.

There were some high scoring games in the minor division as the White Sox beat the Orioles 23-5, the Angels bombed the Tigers 23-6 and the Royals clobbered the Indians 22-6.

Two double-plays by Lisa Baldwin, plus the shut-out pitching of Karen Marr-Snider, were plenty for the Angels to handle the Athletics 22-0.

In other games, the Orioles beat the Royals 11-9 and the White Sox held off the Twins 11-6, who lost to the Indians 7-3 in a later game. Julie Medefessor hit a homer for the Indians. The Twins bounced back to defeat the Athletics 10-4.

Don pair vault to high places

WHEN TWO athletes from the same league can finish in the top four in an event in a big invitational track and field meet, it's quite an achievement.

But when two athletes from the same school can turn the trick in a meet that includes many of the top performers from Northern California, it's almost unbelievable!

Well, that's just what Bert Tardieu and Rod Rodriguez did last weekend for the Del Mar Dons at the prestigious West Coast Relays in Fresno.

The two Dons finished third and fourth in the pole vault at the event to spearhead Del Mar's performance in the meet.

Tardieu was third in the event with a 14'6'' effort in Fresno and Rodriguez finished fourth with a 14' vault. Blake Fearnside also cleared 14' in the meet but was seventh because of misses.

Del Mar was fresh off a 77-54 West Valley Athletic League dual meet win over Leigh.

The Dons swept four events to roll to the victory, taking the top three spots in the pole vault, the 100, the shot put and the discus.

Fearnside led the Don sweep of the pole vault with a first place finish at 15'. Greg Tardieu was second at 12'6'' with David Garcia third at 11'.

ED AUSTIN, a Don double winner in the meet, started Del Mar to a sweep in the 100 with a win at 10.5. Bob Onetto was second at 10.6 with Fearnside third at 10.7. Austin also won the long jump at 20'5''.

Andy Lanzino finished first in the shot with a 51'4¾'' heave with Jim Courson second at 50'9'' and Pete Angelidakis third at 49'11''. Bob Kugler won the discus at 156'7'' with Angelidakis second at 150' and Jim Slattery third at 147'7''.

Jeff Dove was also a Don double winner in the meet, taking the 880 at 1:59 and the 330 low hurdles at 40.0. Bob Mende won the 440 at 51.6.

Austin, Mende, Ed Toro and Fearnside combined for a first in the 440 relay at 46.3 to open the meet.

The Dons finished the regular WVAL season with a 6-1-1 record and in second place in the standings going into the league finals Thursday at West Valley College.

The Dons must finish ahead of Leigh to secure second place in the league but would tie for the runner-up spot if they finish behind the Longhorns.

Campbell lost a 90-46 WVAL decision last Friday to Branham despite rolling to a pair of wins in the 440 and mile relays.

Carlos Velasco won the 120 high hurdles in the meet for the Bucs at 15.8 and Dave Felenske took the pole vault at 12'.

Prospect gave league leading Camden a real run last Friday, losing a close 74-62 decision to the unbeaten Cougars.

IT'S GOING TO BE A LONG, DRY,
EXPENSIVE SUMMER.

WHAT HAS THE DROUGHT DONE TO POWER SUPPLIES?

The drought is already having its effect on PG&E's ability to generate electric power this year. Here are the facts:

In a normal year, much of PG&E's electricity is generated by water power. The drought has reduced our hydroelectric generating capacity to less than half of normal. By summer, we expect our reservoirs to be at all-time lows. Any chance of getting enough rain or snow to solve the problem just about disappeared by mid-March.

Last year was also a drought year. But we were able to buy large amounts of hydroelectric power from the Pacific Northwest. This year we can't. Water conditions there are so far below normal that a 10% cutback in power usage has been ordered. So no power at all is available to us from that source this year.

Our Diablo Canyon Nuclear Plant has the capacity to fill the gap. But it is not in operation because it is still in the process of being licensed.

To make up for the missing hydro power this year, we are working our steam-electric generating plants (fueled mostly by oil) overtime. We are also buying power from Southern California and Nevada utilities. The amounts available may or may not be enough to meet all our customers' demands during peak periods in coming months. If there is not enough power to go around, our customers will be asked to cut back their use even more than now. Power shortages that require actual power cutoffs to groups of customers will occur only if voluntary cutbacks fail to work. Or if there is a breakdown of major steam-electric generating equipment. (Such breakdowns, unfortunately, are more apt to happen when generating equipment works overtime, as now.)

WHAT ABOUT THE COSTS TO YOU?

With hydroelectric capacity sharply reduced, it takes more oil to run our steam-electric generating plants. This oil, mostly imported, costs almost $15 a barrel. We will need to burn at least 50 million barrels of it this year – compared to less than 27 million last year. And the more oil we burn, the more electricity will cost.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

If ever the need to conserve energy were clear, it is now. Saving kilowatt hours not only helps relieve the energy shortage, it also saves you real money. Just call or visit your nearest PG&E office. We will provide you with information on how you can cut down on your use of electricity without disrupting your home or business.

PG and E
Save energy. You'll save money, too.

health tips

WHEN THE male fetus is forming in the uterus, the testes develop behind the abdominal cavity and in the seventh month of pregnancy begin their descent into the scrotum. This process is normally complete by birth but occasionally does not become complete until six to nine months after birth. When this process is incomplete one has the condition known as cryptorchidism or undescended testes.

Cryptorchidism is one of the most common congenital abnormalities affecting males. It is estimated that undescended testes occurs in one out of every 200 to 500 males. In the infant this problem can usually be readily recognized by merely feeling the scrotum or sac to determine whether or not both of the testicles are present. In the older child this is sometimes more difficult to detect with certainty because normal testes will occasionally retract up into the groin, a phenomenon known as testicular retractility or "yo-yo" testes.

The testes are male sex organs which serve two functions: 1) they produce the male sex hormone and 2) they produce spermatozoa, the cells that result in fertilization.

IF TESTES remain undescended certain irreversible changes occur between the age of six years and the completion of puberty. These changes destroy the ability of the testicle to produce sperm but do not affect its hormonal functions. For this reason, the preferred method of treatment for undescended testes is an operation in which the testes are surgically placed in the scrotum. It is currently recommended that the surgical procedure be performed between ages two and six years in the hope that irreversible changes can be avoided.

Another reason for surgical correction is that approximately 90 per cent of males with an undescended testicle also have a hernia on the affected side which will require surgery. If this is the case, the testicle might just as well be brought down at the same time.

THE EXACT cause for this congenital abnormality is not well understood and is variable in different cases. Occasionally the testicle either does not develop or develops poorly. This is a situation which cannot be determined preoperatively but for which there obviously is no surgical solution.

In other instances the reason for testicular nondescent is a harmonal abnormality. In these cases hormonal treatment may be advised, either as a diagnostic or a therapeutic procedure. The usual diagnostic procedure is the administration of a hormone called chorionic gonadotropin which causes the testes to produce testosterone, the male hormone. This simulates the onset of puberty for the purpose of determining whether or not the testes will descend with a hormonal stimulus. If the testes descend under such circumstances, no operation is necessary.

Frequently the cause of non-descent is an obstruction in the normal pathway of descent or some other problem which has caused the testicle to go astray. These problems are surgical and hormonal treatment will not help.

There are other rarer causes for undescended testes.

THE MALE who has an undescended testicle has a greater chance of developing a testicular malignancy. It is not known whether or not early operation will prevent these malignant changes, but early operation does place the testicle in a position where the development of malignancy can be detected at an earlier stage. For the male with an undescended testicle after puberty, it is best that the testicle be removed because, at that time, it is serving no function with regard to sperm production but is a definite liability with regard to potential malignancy.

Cryptorchidism is a problem that, when diagnosed, should have prompt attention. It usually can be corrected. Without treatment, however, there can be lasting consequences.

Annual review held at Leigh for R.O.T.C.

Things have really changed in the Marine Corps Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps and the annual review and parade in the Campbell high school district at Leigh High School is a case in point.

Two girls from Camden High School will receive physical fitness awards for ranking second and fourth in competition among the 10 western states and two of the eight Outstanding Cadet awards will go to coeds.

A total of 24 awards were presented in the review which caps this year's activities. The drill teams performed and a judo demonstration was presented.

Kathy Towner and Cherie Jones, of Camden, received their awards for ranking second and fourth respectively in the regional fitness competition.

Outstanding cadets named were Russ Baker. Campbell high; Mike Brookman, Prospect; Mark Couture, Branham; Cassandra Davis, Leigh; Robert Garrett, Blackford; Kathy Towner, Camden; David West, Westmont, and Ron Yamamoto, Del Mar.

Col. Mitchell Paige, Congressional Medal of Honor winner headed the list of awarders which included Betty Pierce, president of the Reserve Officer Association Ladies, and a retired Army chief warrant officer, assisted by her husband James, a retired Army reserve colonel.

Honored guests included: Col. Walter Gaspar, Lt. Cmdr. Smith, Capt. Lawrence Torsilini, Capt. Mary Lyons, Lt. Col. Harry Hall and Superintendent Nicholas Montesano.

Lt. Col. (Ret.) Arthur Eppley serves as senior Marine instructor.

Art awards presented to students by woman's club

NOTICE OF RESOLUTION OF INTENTION TO AUTHORIZE THE GRANT OF A TEMPORARY CONSTRUCTION EASEMENT AND A PERMANENT EASEMENT FOR STREET PURPOSES OVER REAL PROPERTY OF THE CAMPBELL UNION HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT TO THE CITY OF CAMPBELL, A MUNICIPAL CORPORATION.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of trustees of the CAMPBELL UNION HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT did, on the 26th day of April, 1977, pass and adopt a resolution of intention to enter into an agreement with and to grant a temporary construction easement and a permanent easement for street purposes over real property of the CAMPBELL UNION HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT to the CITY OF CAMPBELL, a municipal corporation. The attention of the electors of the CAMPBELL UNION HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT is directed to said resolution and the proposed agreement to be signed with the City of Campbell. The plans for said improvement and a copy of the Resolution of Intent are on file in the office of the District Superintendent of said District, 3235 Union Avenue, San Jose, California.

A public hearing on the grant of the said easements required for said public roads at the intersection of Winchester and Campbell Boulevards, will be held at 7:30 o'clock P.M. on May 24th, 1977, at the regular place of the Board of Trustees, 3235 Union Avenue, San Jose, California.

Dated: April 27, 1977

An Affair to Remember with BEA RENÉ

© Bea Rene 1975

A warm exciting atmosphere, friendly services & excellent food are only a few of the reasons why people return to CLEMENTINE'S. Unique decor is certainly worthy of your admiration, w/huge silk Tiffany shades in lovely colors. After enjoying a marvelous dinner prepared by Chef Ramon Montoya, step into the lounge to enjoy the 3 pc. group "GOOD NATURE" Wed.-Sat. Lots of free security parking, too!

Great news for dancers who enjoy diversified music to the big band sounds — the 94TH AERO SQUADRON features a downstairs bunker lounge & dance floor presided over by D.J. "CHAD JEFFERIES" Tues.-Sat. 8:30 p.m.-1:30 p.m., while "ROXANNE" is on board every Sun. w/the big band sounds of the 40's. This is a fun restaurant & lounge — personable Chad plays your requests & keeps things moving. Stop by for dinner & linger on for an evening of entertainment & fun.

Last week friends thanked me for the fine dining tip I've been reporting in my column & also on my KPEN reviews — they took my advice & enjoyed a marvelous Continental dinner at the LOS GATOS LODGE where the atmosphere was relaxed & beautiful. The Veal Oscar (made w/white veal, topped w/sauteed crab legs & sauce Baranaise) — only $7.95 — was superior & the Tornados Rossini (beef filet topped w/goose liver pate) — only $8.00 — was a gourmet's delight! They loved the entertainment, too!

Don't you find it annoying to be shunted off to a cocktail lounge while waiting for a dinner? SIRLOIN AND BREW UNLIMITED seats you immediately! They don't have cocktail lounges but you probably enjoy more beverages than elsewhere because wine, beer or sangria (any amount) are lavished on you as part of your dinner. Their full V.I.P. Dinner for $4.79 incls. unlimited salad, baked potato, bread & butter & beverage. Best of all, you won't spend extra dollars for unnecessary cocktails.

• health tips

"RINGWORM" is a skin disorder which is misleadingly named. It is not caused by a worm, and the lesions are not necessarily ringed. It is a fungus infection which is quite common. Some persons are more susceptible to fungus than others, and this susceptibility can be heightened by such conditions as heat and moisture.

Fungus infection most frequently occurs on the scalp, body, hands, feet or nails. The infection can be stubborn, and only in recent years has medication been developed which can control the more resistant cases.

Fungus infection is contagious. Although it is rarely a serious health problem it should be treated by a doctor — not only because of its discomfort but because if it is not treated it might infect others. When it causes a break in the skin it may open the way for other more dangerous infections.

FUNGUS infections of the scalp can be a very contagious disease in children. When a child is infected, patches of baldness may appear on the scalp. These patches are round, gray and scaly, with a covering of tiny hair which has been broken off at the scalp surface. This infection of the scalp may spread from one child to another if they use each other's comb and brush, wear each other's hats or lean back against contaminated high-backed seats in automobiles, theatres, etc. A child may get the infection from a cat, dog or other pet.

When a fungus infection appears on the body, it occurs in patches about the size of a small coin bordered with tiny, itchy blisters. This type of infection usually appears on the face or neck, but it may occur on any part of the body. As in the case of fungus of the scalp, this disease occurs frequently among children. To prevent further infection, an infected animal as well as the child should be treated for the disease.

OLDER children and adults are likely to suffer from fungus infection of the feet, commonly known as athlete's foot. Symptoms of athlete's foot include itching between the toes, scaling, blisters which enlarge if the disease remains untreated and, in severe cases, swelling, redness and rawness. Since everyone is a potential victim of athlete's foot, preventive foot hygiene should be followed. Feet should be bathed regularly with energetic soaping between the toes. Dry your feet thoroughly and dust with a good medicated foot powder. Keep the feet dry. Wear comfortable, roomy shoes and stockings so that air can circulate.

The most stubborn form of fungus infection occurs in the nail. If untreated, it can spread through the nail, leaving it discolored, grooved and brittle.

A major breakthrough in treating fungus infections of the scalp and body was the development some years ago of griseofulvin, a drug taken by mouth. Various creams and other medications have been effective in the treatment of athlete's foot.

All of us can accept some responsibility for the prevention of fungus infection through our own practices of hygiene and through being careful about not spreading it to others. If the disease develops, do not attempt self-treatment which often spreads and intensifies the infection. Follow a program of treatment prescribed by your doctor.
